Dedication

Who's the smiling face? Her name is Diane Collins, and she is the secretary at the Student Government Association. Diane is however, more than a secretary. She is a caring and supportive person who, because of her enthusiasm and dedication, keeps the SGA operating smoothly. Diane's personal commitment to the SGA and to all students at North Adams State College, is why the class of 1988 is dedicating their book to her.

Diane, in appreciation and acknowledgement of your ardent dedication, the class of 1988 dedicates our yearbook to you. Your smiles, enthusiastic personality, hard work, and words of encouragement have not gone unnoticed.

Thank you

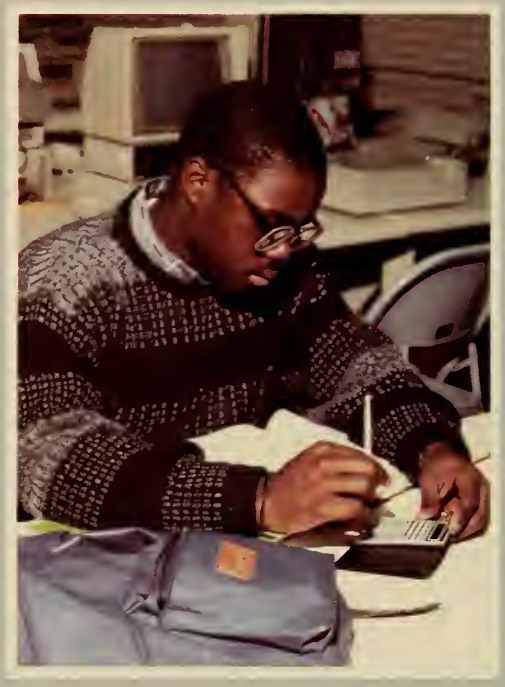
On the starting line to a human race,

Bone
Head

Limber, stretched, and awaiting to start,
Excited hearts beat at a passionate pace,

But before we are off and far apart



Stop, look around, inhale a reflective breath

And gather all the memories of years past -

They will make the air you breathe fresh -
They will be an energy that will last.

In the span of a lifetime,

We may run a marathon of mountainous miles

Because life is not always in rhyming harmony.

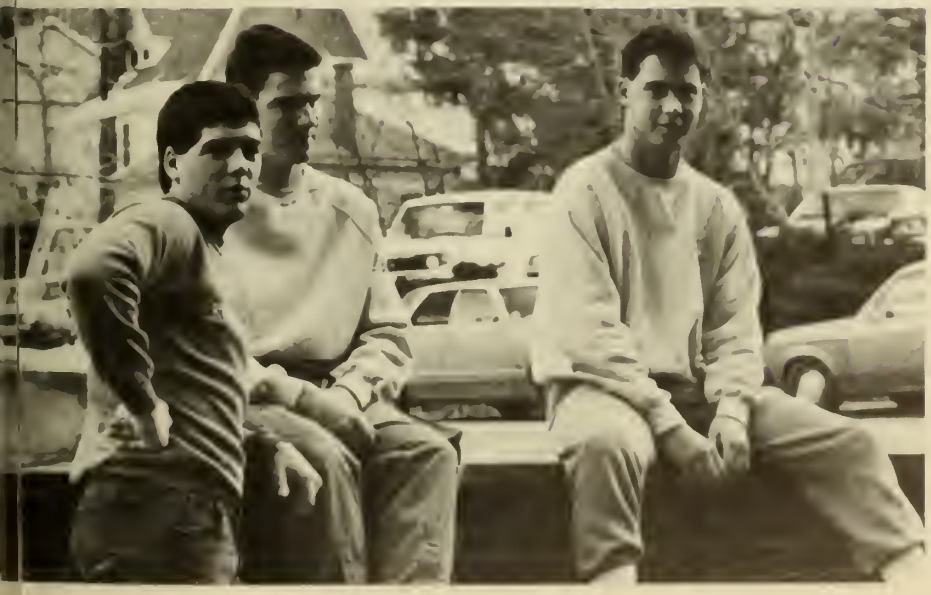
Living

Berkshire Towers known affectionately as the "Towers," is one of the two freshman dorms on campus. Many of us seniors began our NASC stay there: Remember those late night fire alarms? or how about Dennis Caprone - the R.D.? Or always looking out for R.A.s? There are new faces now, but our freshman days at the "Towers" will always be a memorable experience . . .

The Towers



Hoosac Hall

. . . Hoosac Hall, popularly known as "Hoosac," the other freshman dorm, is also where many of us started. Remember the famed "Seventh Heaven?" Or the second floor – the "Convent?" Or Beth McQueen – the R.D.? Or how about ARA Food? Freshman year was an experience, and "Hoosac" was a memorable part of that experience . . .

Townhouses

. . . From the dorms many of us went to the Flagg Townhouses, or as they are better known, the "Townhouses." Remember going through the lottery? Wandering if you would get a townhouse? Wiffle ball games in the Fire Lane? Getting mail or doing laundry at the Greenhouse? Or how about the chalet across Ashland street? Although many of stayed in the "Townhouses," some of us went . . .

Off Campus

. . . Off Campus: Ashland St., Montana St., Spring St., Cherry St., Washington St., Blackington St., etc. Remember: The keg and porch parties (until Commissioner Kelley visited)? Rising rents and astronomical phone bills? N.A. winters without any heat? Or how about the Boardman Apartments? Or shelves stocked with gourmet foods (peanut butter & jelly, tuna fish, and macaroni & cheese)? Off Campus sure proved to be an "interesting" and memorable time . .

Weightlifting Club

Special Interest Groups

NASC also provides student's membership in special interest or ser vice providing clubs. Special interest clubs develop a sense of grou sharing and community building while establishing a group identity The service providing clubs work for the North Adams' Communit as a whole. Both types of clubs allow students to develop responsibil ity for others.

Soccer

Men's

"The Men's Soccer team's record was just as impressive as NASC finished 10-5-1. Unfortunately, the Mohawks failed to qualify for post-season play, largely due to the strength of the MASCAC.

Seniors Armind Dias, Mike Shiel and All-Conference star Brian Harlow helped to lead North Adams to key victories against Eastern Connecticut, Castleton State and Bridgewater State.

Look for the Mohawks to come back with a vengeance next season as veterans Bill Wilson, Torin Dudley, Mike Kemp and Gary Cortell, among others, will seek to reclaim the MASCAC title."

Women's

"The biggest surprise of the fall sports season was the success of the Women's Soccer team. In only its third year of organized play, the squad battled its way to a 11-7-1 record as the Mohawks won the MASCAC title and earned an ECAC bid. North Adams also defeated arch-rival Williams, 4-0, for Coach Susan Getchell's first win over the Purple Cows in either field hockey or soccer since 1974.

Even though NASC bowed in a tough double overtime contest to Tufts, 3-1, in the post-season tournament, the Mohawks' future appears to be bright. The inspired play of newcomers Betsy D'Agostino and Roberta Smith helped turned several close games into North Adams victories.

The enthusiasm of the fresh talent meshed well with the experience of the veterans. Sue Giagrande, Sheila Horgan, Jackie Wilson and Pam Perlmutter were a few of the returnees that contributed mightily to the Mohawks success."

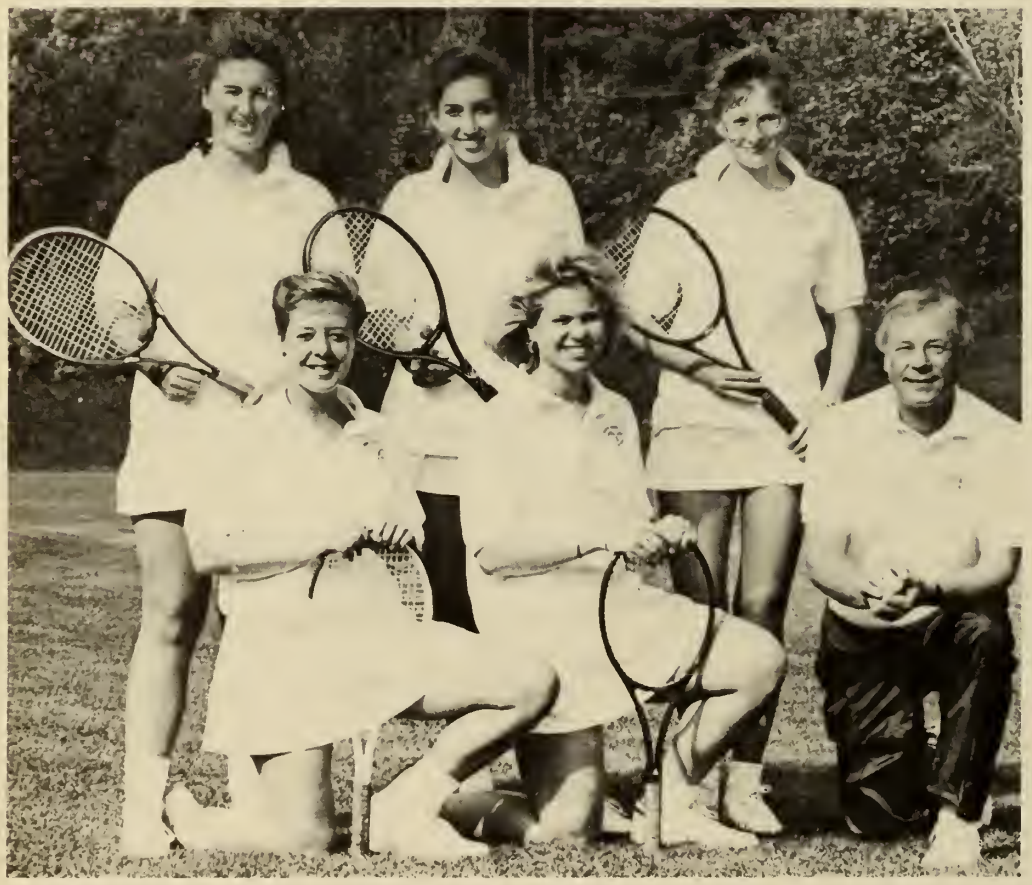
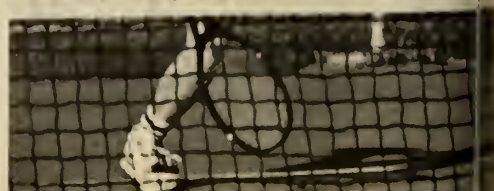
Tennis

Men's and Women's

"On the court, the Men's Tennis team snagged its fourth MASCAC title in five years by winning all nine conference matches on its way to a 16-2 overall record. Junior Ray Reed served up a 15-4 record as he was named the squad's MVP.

The Women's Tennis team's season was highlighted by an important win over American International College. Pam McHugh, Jen Cavalluzzi, Debbie Koski, and Linda Rammer each won their singles matches in decisive fashion to lead the Mohawks to the 7-2 victory."





Volleyball

"The NASC Volleyball team broke new ground, as the Mohawks slammed their way into the win column twice this season. This was the first time that they had won more than once in a season. Sue Palladino, Karyn Forrester, Pam Rutter and freshman phenomenon Mary Vaughn were among those who helped the Volleyballers to their best season ever."

Basketball

Men's

"The men's basketball team, under the guidance of new Head Coach Al Sokaitis, surprised many across the state by winning the MASCAC title. The Mohawks rebounded from an upset loss in Westfield to eventually defeat Salem State, 92-87, in a tie-breaking contest. The win decided the conference championship in North Adams' favor and sent the hoopsters to the NCAA Division III tournament at SMU for the second straight year.

NASC lost its opening round contest in the tourney to the Corsairs, 91-75, and dropped the consolation game to the University of Southern Maine, 84-60. Even though the Mohawks' performance was a disappointment, this season provided many pleasant memories for NASC hoop fanatics.

Perhaps the most exciting win in North Adams' basketball history occurred on Dec. 9 when the Mohawks overcame a 47-point performance by Williams' Garcia Major to defeat the Ephmen, 104-99, in a double-overtime thriller that left all in attendance gasping for air.

Guard Phil Bledsoe (23 points per game) and center Bernard Alexander (20ppg) were each named to Division III All-Star teams, Co-captains Kevin Plankey and Don Edwards each exhibited leadership and provided effective defense, and Tony Paranto electrified crowds with his 60% accuracy from three-point range."

Women's

"The Women's Basketball team played better than its 6-18 record. With a few breaks in several close games, the Mohawks could have approached the .500 mark for the season.

NASC's hard luck was exacerbated late in the season when co-captain and point machine Nora Hartigan went down with a fractured leg. Nevertheless, the Mohawks scrapped their way to several victories behind the play of Palladino, Bonnie Cameron and Gail Bonefant. Freshmen Cheryl Williams and Chris Lisien provided some optimism for the future with their skill and hard work on the boards."

Ice Hockey

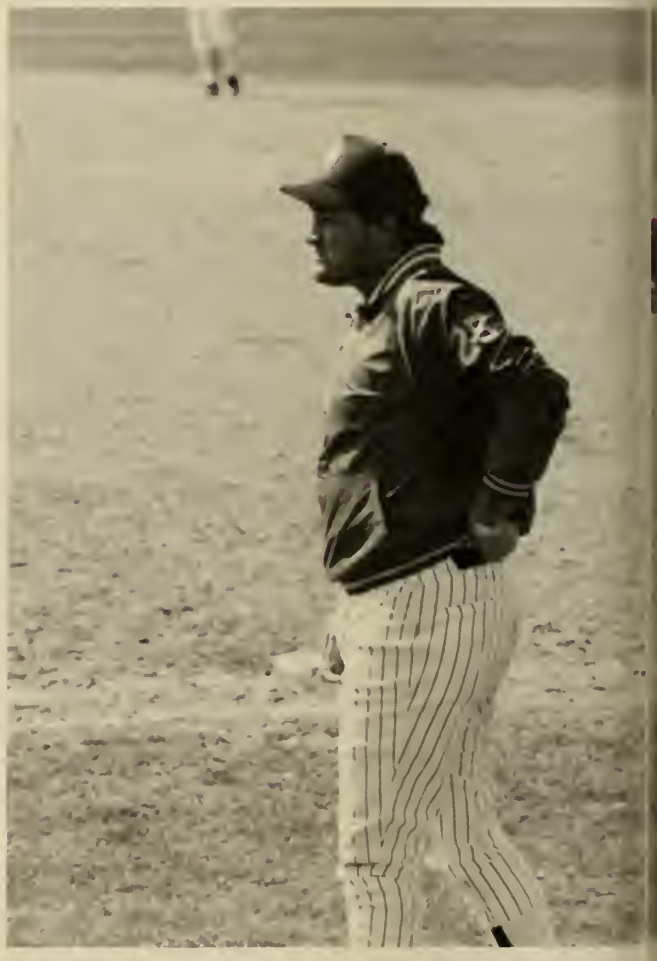
The NASC Hockey team at times resembled a wandering caravan, as all but eight of its games were played on the road this season. The Mohawks compiled a 12-14-1 record, and some of their most impressive wins came over Framingham State, 13-1, WNEC, 9-5, and Potsdam State, 7-3.

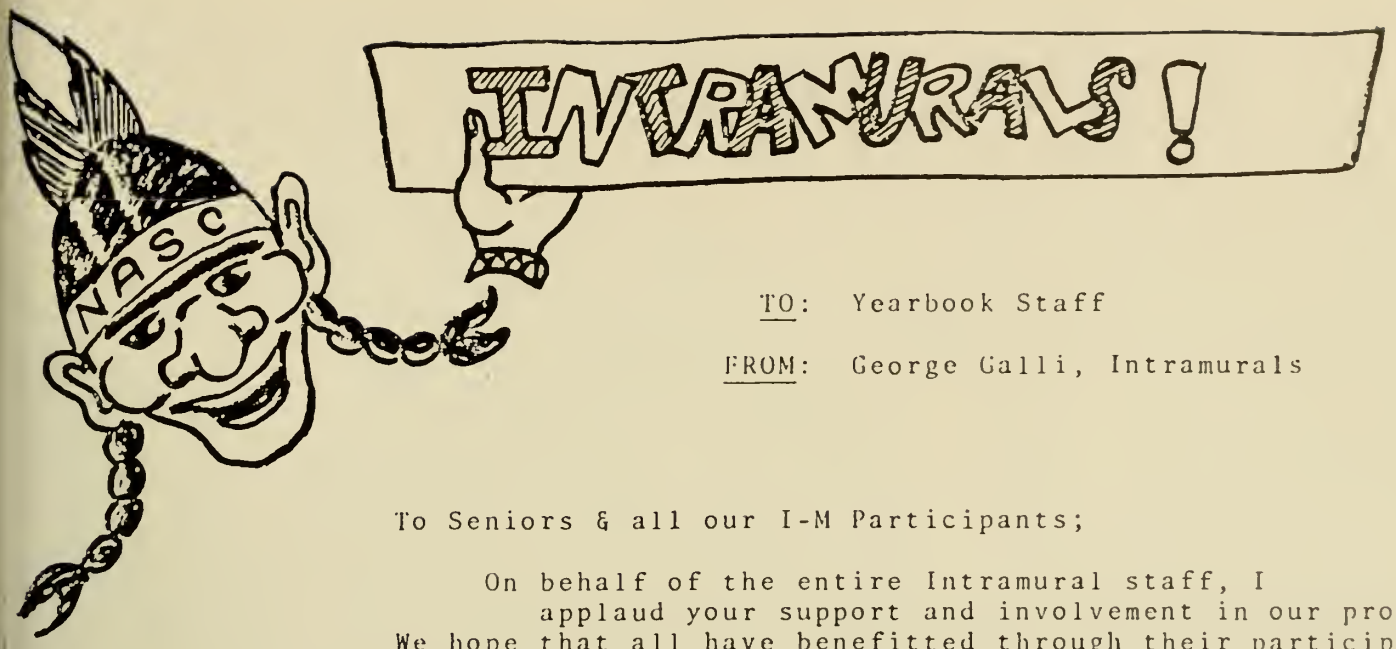
The most frustrating loss of the year for NASC and its coach, Bill Turner, who will be leaving North Adams at the end of the semester, occurred at Williams on Feb. 19. The Mohawks gave the Cows all they could handle for two and half periods, but repeatedly foiled by Williams' goalie, Mark Morrison, during a late flurry. After the contest ended, an ugly brawl between NASC players and Williams fans broke out near the Mohawks' dressing room.

Softball

"The softball team had a trying year, as the Mohawks finished with a record of 5-13. NASC triumphed in three of its first five games, but was not able to continue its winning ways for the remainder of the season.

The most important victories of the year came as the Mohawks won both games against Williams College. Freshman hurler Jodi Frasca pitched a one-hitter to lead North Adams to a 6-0 victory. In the season finale at home against the Ephwomen, Tri-Captains Traci Callahan, Horgan and Giagrande finished their careers with a 9-1 win."





TO: Yearbook Staff

FROM: George Galli, Intramurals

To Seniors & all our I-M Participants;

On behalf of the entire Intramural staff, I applaud your support and involvement in our program. We hope that all have benefitted through their participation in the program. Graduates, as you reflect back on your years at NASC, we hope pleasant memories of friendships, competition, fun and laughter emerge. We encourage you to continue these lifelong friendships and skills as you look to bigger and better"things". To those returning, we look forward to your continued participation and support. In closing, we once again bid a fond farewell to the class of 1987-88 and remind everyone to stay in touch!

Respectfully yours,
George Galli, I-M Director

George Galli

Special Events

Some things we'll all remember about North Adams State are the "special" events the college offers. Yahoo Fest, Mud Fest, The Pines Run, Wacky Sport Days and the classic Cliff Myers nights in the Pub, are some of the annual events which make N.A.S.C. a unique place to be a part of.
